

English Language Studies

English Language Studies helps students whose first language is not English to gain proficiency in the English language for academic, career, and general purposes. English Language Studies offers an English Language Proficiency Diploma credential through both full-time and part-time options. The program prepares students for university studies and for participation in the university community.

IN THIS SECTION

- Home: English Language Studies
- Diploma
- English Language Preparatory Courses