

English Language Studies

English Language Studies helps students whose first language is not English to gain proficiency in the English language for academic, career, and general purposes. English Language Preparatory Courses prepare students at lower levels to enter the Diploma program. The English Language Proficiency Diploma prepares students for university studies and for participation in the university community. This program can be taken full time or part time.

IN THIS SECTION

- Home: English Language Studies
- -->
- Diploma
- English Language Preparatory Courses