

Kwantlen Applied Archaeology Field School Boston Bar 2009

Temperatures were very high, but all excavated materials were carefully screened and sorted.

Documents from the 1800s showed a Nlaka'pamux community on the east side of the tracks before CPR construction. This was where people lived prior to the current homes at Kopchitchin.

Leigh Grafinger works to collect tree ring samples from cedar trees in the South Ainslie. Bark was harvested from these trees in the mid to late 1800s for baskets, mats, and traditional clothing.

Students and Instructors

Chandra Ehnes	Carla Mainwaring
Steffan Gordon	Ryan Morton
Leigh Grafinger	Amanda Palmer
James Greenhalgh	Brian Pegg
Melissa Rivero	Julie Percival
Spencer Jamieson	Dave Track
Munisha Kailley	Megan Vanderwel
Nellissa Ling	Spencer Westlake
Stacey Lynden	Kristy Whitehurst

Host Community

Boston Bar First Nation – Thank you!