

Research and Scholarship Committee (R&S)

The purpose of the FoH Research and Scholarship Committee is to identify, encourage, support and celebrate research and scholarly activities underway by students and faculty in the FoH. The goal is to integrate these works into teaching, learning and discovery on contemporary issues in health to enhance creativity, innovation and critical thinking during students' undergraduate learning experience and offer enhanced career opportunities post graduation.