

AMAZON

Interdisciplinary Field School

MAY 5 - MAY 18 2023

EXPERIENCE

Visit Colombia's Amazon Rainforest and experience its rich biological and cultural diversity. After a cultural tour of Bogota, you will travel south to the Calanoa Natural Reserve where you will engage in creative activities, trek and canoe into the forest, and learn indigenous knowledge from local guides and shamans. This 6-credit course and field school uses an interdisciplinary approach to explore themes of sustainability, conservation, community development, and indigenous perspectives.

Program Fee: $3,470 CAD: This includes accommodation, in-country transportation, field trips, comprehensive travel insurance, and a majority of your meals.

A $500 non-refundable deposit is required upon approval of application (goes towards the program fee).

Several scholarships are available for field schools:
kpu.ca/studyabroad/go-on-exchange/funding-scholarships

APPLY NOW!

DEADLINE

December 1, 2022
kpu.ca/fieldschools

FACULTY LEADERS

Lucie Gagné
WSD Faculty
lucie.gagne@kpu.ca

Marlis Joller
WSD Faculty
marlis.joller@kpu.ca