

Dear colleagues,

As you plan for your final assessments using remote delivery, we are pleased to share a new resource with you, which includes our top ten strategies for ensuring academic integrity with online assessments. These strategies are not an exhaustive list, but we hope provides you with helpful guidance in time for your final assessments. There are additional resources in development that will follow.

To look at this interactive resource, please visit: <https://www.kpu.ca/teaching-and-learning/keep-teaching/redesigning-assessments> and scroll down to see the infographic titled “Academic Integrity with Online Assessments.”

Thank you very much,
