

© Lucie Gagne

APPLY NOW!

➤ Application Deadline:
December 8, 2017

Apply at:
kpu.ca/exchange/field-schools

For more information visit:
calanoamazonas.com
amazonfieldschool.ca

CONTACT:
internationalprograms@kpu.ca
604.599.2289

FACULTY LEADERS:
Lucie Gagné
lucie.gagne@kpu.ca

Farhad Dastur
farhad.dastur@kpu.ca

There's no substitute for being here.

Field School 2018
May 4 – May 20

KPU International

The AMAZON Interdisciplinary Field School 2018

© Diego Samper

EXPERIENCE

Visit Colombia's Amazon Rainforest and experience its rich biological and cultural diversity. After a cultural tour of Bogota, you will travel south to the Calanoa Natural Reserve where you will engage in creative activities, trek and canoe into the forest, and learn indigenous knowledge from local guides and shamans. This 6-credit course and field school uses an interdisciplinary approach to explore themes of sustainability, conservation, community development, and indigenous perspectives.

© Lisa King

HIGHLIGHTS

- Learn about Colombia's history, culture, and current issues from local experts.
- Visit Bogota's museums, local markets, gardens, historical and iconic architectural sites, and more.
- Trek through the tropical rainforest and boat down the Amazon River.
- Search for river dolphins by the Peruvian shore.
- Tour indigenous villages and meet with shamans, local artisans, and master craftpeople.
- Engage in creative workshops including pottery making, drawing, photography, and so much more.

© Lucie Gagne

DETAILS

CLASSES OFFERED: ARTS OR DESIGN 3000 (6-credits). Classes begin in January 2018* and are co-taught by Lucie Gagné (Design) and Farhad Dastur (Arts).

PRE-REQUISITE: 30 credits of 1100 level or higher courses.

TRAVEL DATES: May 4 to May 20, 2018*

PROGRAM FEE: $2975. This includes accommodation, in-country transportation, field trips, and a majority of your meals. International flight, personal expenses, additional meals and tuition not included.

OUTSIDE APPLICATIONS: Applications from students outside of KPU are encouraged and will be accepted and considered based on seat availability and compliance with prerequisites.

Exact day/time for classes TBA. Travel dates subject to minor adjustments pending final reservations*