 - A very exciting semester! We're in the add/ drop period but we have crossed the $1 million mark in textbook cost savings in a single semester, for the first time. As of Fall 2020 we have crossed the $5 million saving mark, cumulatively. We have seen growth across the board with ZTC effecting: faculty (419), students (46, 692), sections (417), unique courses (845) that have been designated as ZTC.
- iii. Workshops & Training

5. Working Group Composition

- a. Discussion on expanding ex officio membership to the working group
 - i. Question regarding conflict of interest for reviewing grant applications:
 1. If you have a conflict of interest, you should be recusing yourself from said discussion
- b. These decisions can be revisited
- c. As it stands, the Terms of Reference does not specify terms for non-faculty representatives, nor does it specify which seats are ex-officio
- d. Proposal: Can the following membership be added?
 - i. Open Education Strategist; ex-officio, voting (carried)
 - ii. Open Education Teaching Fellow; ex-officio, voting (carried)
 - iii. Open Education Research Fellow, ex-officio, voting (carried)

- b. Search in Files to view applications

- o Heather Clark:
 - Brief Description: Along with Catherine Hay of South Delta Secondary School, Heather will create an OER of sewing skills and techniques to be hosted on WordPress for the benefit of multiple programs and levels and across institutions. This OER will include image, text, and videos. A student assistant will be hired to help create and manage the WordPress site.
 - Q for applicants: Will any of the fund be dedicated to equipment? Will this come from the PD portion of the grant?
 - Is WordPress the appropriate platform for this creation grant?
 - Creators do not want a linear (Pressbook) format, WordPress was a conscious choice
 - While we do not have formal supports for WordPress, WordPress can be exported and supported
 - PebblePad is another potential platform
 - Both students and faculty can request WordPress site: <https://wordpress.kpu.ca/>
 - In the past we have allowed faculty to use a variety of platforms for the OER grant, Pressbooks is not a requirement
 - Is the timeline feasible?
 - Timelines are usually in flux
 - This project is supposed to be ongoing with subsequent grant proposals
 - It would not be sustainable for a project that has already received a grant to receive multiple additional grants
 - There has to be a clear deliverable for the current project
 - However, if a project significantly builds on a previous deliverable, it may still be considered for a second OER grant
 - There is no promise of additional funding, it would have to be considered on its own merits
 - Follow-up: Source of funding for equipment mentioned in application
- o Xin Liu:
 - Brief Description: Xin Liu will create an open organic chemistry textbook, in part, using ChemDraw. ChemDraw can be used to create H5P applications.
 - Agreement around the potential money savings for students.
 - Rajiv Jhangiani provided a letter of support to Xin's ed leave application.
 - There are concerns around the proposed software
 - Information security and privacy have to be considered for all software, this would make the grant conditional

- Q for applicant: Would they benefit more from a student assistant?
- Lisa Gedak: ChemDraw UK based and US stored "We will store the Personal Data that we collect from you in the course of these interactions, including, but not limited to, name, address, phone number, username and password, email address, date of birth, location data, and payment information. When you utilize certain of our Services, we may also collect certain health-related or biometric information in order to provide the Services"
- Follow-up: Software assessment for privacy & security, need for a student assistant
- Valerie Vezina:
 - Brief Description: Along with various contributors at KPU and elsewhere, Valerie will create an open textbook for Ideology and Politics.
 - One dedicated chapter on Indigenous Worldviews, concern that this may be homogenizing
 - Difficult to capture the breadth of culture, instead maybe focus on a specific Canadian example?
 - Chapter on "Islamism" is also perhaps an issue
 - The institution has spoken at length about indigenization and decolonization
 - We could provide this feedback and wait for an answer
 - Trust that applicants have thought through these issues
 - KPU faculty cannot receive honoraria
 - Budget would account for 4 external grants which would take up the $2000
 - Q for applicant: What about the authors who have not yet been identified?
 - Follow-up: content concerns, tbd chapter authors and additional honoraria
